What Is The Orton- Gillingham/Structured Literacy/ Based Approach?

The Orton-Gillingham/Structured Literacy based approach is a systematic, diagnostic, explicit, sequential, and multi-sensory instructional approach intended to be used with individuals who have difficulties with reading, spelling, and writing associated with Dyslexia. Research indicates this is the most effective treatment for Dyslexia.

Just as a breakwater provides a safe harbor for ships until they are ready for the open sea, we help steer children, adolescents, and adults gain the confidence to navigate their lives...

Dyslexia Therapy

Dyslexia therapy at Breakwater Associates is conducted by therapists who have specialized training in the Orton-Gillingham/Structured Literacy approach to reading and writing intervention. We design intervention to begin at each individual’s instructional level. Using a multi-sensory approach, we make therapy fun, engaging, and stimulating with the use of manipulatives, games, and activities.
